Implementation of a Baccalaureate Core Teaching Award (Kevin – see page 4; this is on here so it doesn't get lost)

Subject: baccalaureate core teaching award

Hello Vickie,

I would like to suggest to the Bacc Core committee the implementation of a teaching award for those teaching in the Bacc Core. My rationale is twofold.

1. Excellence in the bacc core can be monitored through assessment and proposal review, but it would be good to also clearly reward it.
2. In selecting the college-level teaching awards, there is a tendency to award to those teaching in majors classes, and the many faculty and instructors doing a fine job in the bacc core are also deserving.

While I recognize that awards may require some $, it is more the formal recognition and the line on a CV that count.

Please pass this suggestion along to the committee.

Anita
