

OSU Academic Advising Award Nomination Form

The OSU Academic Advising Award recognizes undergraduate academic advising by OSU faculty members whose primary role is the delivery of undergraduate academic advising services to students. This award acknowledges advising as a profession making a pivotal contribution to the OSU community.

Eligibility:

- Eligibility is extended to individuals with professional faculty rank as well as fixed-term academic rank faculty whose primary role is advising, rather than teaching, research and service. (Individuals holding academic rank with responsibilities for teaching, research, and service, in addition to advising, may be nominated for the Dar Reese Excellence in Advising Award.)
- Must hold at least .75 FTE of a full-time appointment centered on undergraduate academic advising.
- Academic advisors who assist students in developing suitable education plans, clarifying career and life goals, selecting appropriate courses and other educational experiences, interpreting academic requirements, and using all available resources to enhance their education are eligible for this award.
