Program Information

Program Title: Clinically Based Elementary
CIP Code: 131299
College/Department or College/School: College of Education / No Department
Program Type: Graduate Option
Associated Major: Teaching - MAT
Description:

Clinically Based Elementary

This option is a 2-year program that features culturally literate education, teaching for social justice, and science and math topics leading to a preliminary license. The Clinically Based MAT program takes advantage of a partnership between a school district and the College of Education to put teacher candidates in district classrooms. Each term coursework includes fully online courses, hybrid courses that are a combination of online and face-to-face learning in local districts, and field practicums in school district classrooms.

School districts must be preapproved. Please check with the program coordinator for a list of participating schools.
