

Advising Doctoral Students

Provide innovative professional training for doctoral advisors.

Advising Doctoral Studies is designed to help both new and experienced doctoral advisors develop their ability to effectively mentor doctoral students and to support them in becoming independent researchers.

The program:

- will empower universities to ensure that all faculty involved in advising students are well equipped to deal with emerging challenges
- will help ensure you are providing the highest possible standard of doctoral training for your faculty

Curriculum

MODULE	HOURS
Introduction to 'Advising Doctoral Students'	Core: 30 minutes
Preparing to be an advisor and recruiting the right students	Core: 45 minutes Additional: 2 hours 30 minutes
Getting started	Core: 1 hour Additional: 2 hours 20 minutes
Pre-candidacy	Core: 1 hour Additional: 3 hours 10 minutes
The doctoral project and dissertation	Core: 1 hour Additional: 3 hours 15 minutes
Cross-cutting challenges	Core: 1 hour Additional: 2 hours
Conclusion and practice scenarios	Core: 25 minutes Additional: 20 minutes

Available Now

Full implementation support provided

7.45 hours of core activities, 13.5 hours of additional resources

EXPERT CONTRIBUTORS:

Professor Nick Steneck

Director of the Research Ethics and Integrity Program of the Michigan Institute for Clinical and Health Research and Professor Emeritus of History University of Michigan, USA

Dr George E. Walker

Retired Professor of Physics and the Chief Strategy Officer Cleveland State University

Professor Barbara Knuth

Senior Vice Provost and Dean of the Graduate School Cornell University

Advising Doctoral Students

Our courses are designed to be inspirational and transformative. Through collaboration with world-class authors and universities, use of cutting-edge technology, outstanding client support, and a team of dedicated professionals, we have built an international reputation as a provider of exceptional online learning.

For more information, including details about a free week trial, please contact Fran Ammar, Business Development Director at fran.ammar@epigeum.com or (973) 343-7308

Includes

CORE

Online content provides a solid foundation to the course materials

ADDITIONAL

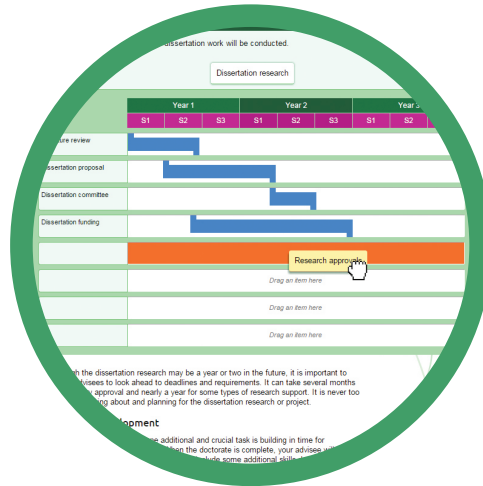

Self-development, peer-to-peer and tutor-led activities and suggestions enable users to explore core learning further

BLENDED

Suggested classroom activities enable users to develop a world-class blended learning approach

Developed in Collaboration with:

- Florida International University
- University of California -San Diego
- Kansas State University
- Western Michigan University
- Oregon State University

